

Two-stage decomposition: measure rays first, identify optics second

Stage 1 stays in 2D (no 3D model assumption); Stage 2 identifies optics in ray space.

